This new show pays tribute to the great Mid-A Morgan Shows of the past, highlighted with the use of the script Mid-A logo in our ribbon rosettes and promotional materials. Here is a brief history of the special Mid-A tradition, compiled by Albert A Lucine Jr.:

Marilyn Childs was the catalyst for the formation of the Mid-Atlantic Morgan Horse Club and its horse show, which has become known as the Mid-A. The initial members of the Mid-A show committee were Marilyn Childs, president; D.F. Switzler, vice-president; Mary Lou Morrell, secretary/treasurer; Dr. C.D. Parks; John Noble; William R. Hopkins; and Mrs. Robert Stoner.

Marilyn Childs was the initial club president, and served the membership as president for four years. She was followed by William R. Hopkins (3 years), Dr. Frances Schaeffer (8 years), Dr. Albert A. Lucine (5 years), Nancy Hutchison (3 years), Dr. Fred Dills (8 years), Sally Hensen (4 years), John Iademarco (8 years), and Mike Goebig is currently serving his second year.

The initial show manager was Mike Brittain, who served for 11 years, followed by Joe Kane (10 years), W. Dayton Sumner (4 years), Jim Burdette (7 years), Fred Dills (8 years), Fern Bittner (3 years), and Glenn Petty is now serving his second year.

For its first eight years, the Mid-A Show was held at the Frederick County Fairgrounds in Frederick, Maryland, and the following five years at the Quentin Riding Club in Quentin, Pennsylvania. The show then moved to the Devon Show Grounds in Devon, Pennsylvania for five years, and the last 24 years it has been held at the Quentin Riding Club.

Mid-A has been a recognized AHSA show each year, and in 1964 and 1965, it was an AHSA Honor Show. From 1968-1975, it was an AHSA Star Show. Mid-A was recognized by AMHA as a National Morgan Show from 1969-1972, and as a Region 2 Championship Show from 1973-1981 and 1998-present.

There were 56 entries in the first show in 1956. In 1977, the show had the highest number of entries with 497 horses shown. The first show offered 26 classes, including futurity classes, in a single day. The show was judged by W. Lyman Orcutt and W. Dayton Sumner. Several winners of interest in the In-Hand division were: Broadwall Drum Major (yearling), Waseeka's Nocturne (two-year-old), Windcrest Donfield (senior stallions), and Windcrest Sentimental Lady (senior mares). Dennisfield won the Novice Saddle class and Parade was second. Dennisfield also won the Junior Saddle class. Nocturne won the Junior Harness class with Dennisfield second and Madelin third. In the Saddle class for horses under 15 hands, Windcrest Donfield won, followed by Windcrest Sentimental Lady, Black Sambo, Trophy, and Select of Wind-Crest. Also of interest, there was no distinctive park or pleasure specifications for the under saddle and in harness classes.

In 1959, Vigilmarch won the Two-Year-Old Stallion class and was pinned Grand Champion Stallion. He also won the Junior Harness class and Open Harness Champion. During the 1971 show, many will remember the work-off in the Park Saddle Championship between Waseeka's In Command and Townshend Debadonna, which Debadonna won. In the late 1970s, the Mason Dixon trophy was introduced to the show for the winner of the Tug of War contest, held over the creek at the Quentin Riding Club. Initial teams, comprised of show exhibitors and friends, were from the North and the South. After several years, a group of Michigan exhibitors formed a Midwest team. For several years, the contest was won by the South team.

In 1980, as part of the 25th anniversary celebration, the show offered a $500 Supreme In-Hand Championship class. Entries were open to any previous Mid-A in-hand champion and any in-hand champion at an all-Morgan show that year. By invitation, Mrs. Helen Greenwalt judged only that class, and pinned Bennfield's Ace champion.

In 1983, Mid-A was the first to offer a Pro-Am class, and the show committee chose the Park Harness division. R Bar B Lord Spence won the event.
