What does Saddlebred Rescue do?

Saddlebred Rescue, Inc is a not-for-profit 501(c)3 charitable organization. The organization is made up of volunteers. Each horse is evaluated by the professional trainers Nealia McCracken and Anne Butler of North Wind Stables. The horses are also tended to by professionals such as veterinarians, farriers\equine dentists and nutritionists.

Saddlebred Rescue buys horses typically from the New Holland auction house or other livestock brokers. These horses are often headed to slaughter in Canada or Mexico. Most of these horses were once used by the Amish and have been on the road for years.

The typical 'Treasure' is 10 years of age or older and has a willing personality, however some show wear from being on the road. On occasion some need a bit of time to regain strength with a proper diet, farrier services and loving care. With just a bit of TLC, the new owner will have a Treasure that is willing to take on the world!
